

IF-Weinheim – NVR activities for 2014

Written by Barbara Ollefs

At the institute for systemic education and development Weinheim (oldest institute for systemic therapy in Germany) we offer an education in “systemic parental coaching and professional presence”, based on a hierarchy of different seminars: a basic seminar, an in-depth-training seminar, three different seminars of free choice and a final 2 days supervision seminar (all in all 14 days).

In 2013/14 we went on in continuing and developing our curriculum in team exchange. We did this particularly with regard to the application in different practice areas, especially for social workers and family helpers, who are working with parents, therapists and teachers of children and adolescents with difficult behavior patterns.

We integrated results from other research areas, e.g. in family business by Arist von Schlippe and have published different articles concerning the NVR.

Under our label “Weinheim international friends” we have been glad to perform seminars with Idan Amiel (“Trouble in school”) and Dr. Uri Weinblatt, both from Israel, (“NVR in couple therapy and parental coaching”).

We continued networking within our institute and other organizations and colleagues from outside e.g. Austria and Switzerland.

At the 3rd international NVR conference held in Munich (march 2014), we presented workshops and poster sessions.

Members of the institute of IF-Weinheim, who are involved with the subject of “systemic parental coaching and professional presence” are: Claudia Terrahe Hecking, Cornelia Hennecke, Dennis Haase, Tom Pinkall, Prof. Arist von Schlippe, Petra Girolstein, Dr. Barbara Ollefs.
